JEFFREY D. HARTY

VI. SUMMARY OF CLAIMED SUBJECT MATTER

Independent claim 1 is directed toward a method of managing patient referrals between health care providers. The method includes providing a web site accessible to a plurality of health care providers, receiving through the web site a plurality of health care provider registrations, each associated with a health care provider, receiving a request for a patient consultation from a first health care provider to be performed by a second health care provider, both the first health care provider and the second health care provider having a health care provider registration, notifying the second health care provider of the request for a patient consultation according to a preferred mode of communication setting set by the second health care provider on the web site, and receiving a peer rating from the first health care provider of the second health care provider. See Specification, p. 6, l. 23 – p. 7, l. 24; p. 20, ll. 2-16.

Independent claim 18 is directed toward a system for managing patient referrals. The method includes a web site accessible to a plurality of health care providers, at least one registration web page within the web site to allow each of the plurality of health care providers to register to become registered health care providers, an inbox within the web site associated with at least one of the registered health care providers and containing at least one request for a patient consult made to the at least one of the registered health care providers, an outbox within the web site associated with the at least one of the registered health care providers and containing at least one request for a patient consult made by the at least one of the registered health care providers, a peer review component for providing feedback related to a patient consult by a consulting health care provider from a referring health care provider, and a mode of communication preference set by a referring health care provider and provided to a consulting health care provider. See Specification, p. 6, l. 23 – p. 7, l. 24; p. 13, l. 22 – p. 14, l. 4; p. 20, ll. 2-16; Fig 7B.

Independent claim 25 is also directed toward a method of managing patient referrals. The method includes providing a web site accessible to a plurality of health care providers, the plurality of health care providers including a referring physician and a consulting physician, receiving a request on the web site from the referring physician for a patient consultation to be performed by the consulting physician on a patient, notifying the consulting physician of the request for a patient consultation, requesting an authorization number for the patient consultation from an insurer providing insurance to the patient, wherein the step of notifying the consulting physician is notifying the consulting physician according to a preferred mode of communications setting set by the consulting physician on the web site. See Specificaion, p. 6, l. 23 – p. 7, l. 24; p. 13, l. 22 – p. 14, l. 4; Fig. 7B.

This replacement section is believed to address all deficiencies raised in the May 9, 2007 Office communication. No fees or extensions of time are believed due with this filing, however if any fees or extensions are due, please consider this a request to debit or credit Deposit Account No. 26-0084 accordingly.

Respectfully submitted,
